3rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

Dear Parish Family:

How many of us remember when we were young, how we thought that we would live forever? As we are getting older, we now realize that our forever is about to end! How quickly times passes!

Isn't it interesting that when we were children we couldn't wait to grow up! Older people seemed to have more freedom. They could do what they wanted. They didn't need anybody's permission for anything. But as soon as we get to do "grown up things", it seems times goes by fast, with each birthday, each holiday, and each calendar day. Soon, we begin to fear the old age. Well, age is relative. It's mind over matter. If you don't mind it doesn't matter. What we need to do is to use all of our time as we can, as soon as we can and as long as we can.

St. Paul tells us that time is short! So it is in service of God and neighbor. We are to love, we are to do good and become good deep down. He tells us to not hold on to anything or anyone, but keep your sights on eternity. It's not here but there that we live forever.

I'm sure all of us are familiar seeing wild ducks on ponds or lakes. They have a way of making themselves at home in any body of water they choose. They rest, swim, dive beneath to search for food, lay their eggs in the high grass. But they are not attached to that particular spot. At a moment's notice, they can pack their things and fly off to another watery spot.

To some extent, this world is on lease to us! Nothing we have is really ours. It's only in our care and use until the time designated by God has passed. Unfortunately, we don't know that time! So we must always, at all times, and in all ways, use properly and respectfully what God has given to us. It all belongs to God, even our lives.

We must keep checking with God. Prayer is one way of checking with Him. If we truly want to live like the way He wants us to, then we need to constantly check to see what changes we may need to make. "I tell you, the time is running out!" Like the ducks, let us remain mindful that we will soon be moving on.....

Our Knights of Columbus are sponsoring "A Knight at the Races" on Saturday, February 17th. Tickets are available; simply ask one of the Knights of Columbus for information.

St. Barnabas Altar Rosary is sponsoring their "Annual Fish/Chicken Dinner" on Saturday, March 3rd. It's a wonderful evening of good food and the possibility of winning many door prizes too. Mark the date on your calendar, tickets will be available soon.

Thought for the week: "Growing old is mandatory; growing up is optional."

Have a great week; we'll see you in Church.....

Fr. Stas
